Dear Members of the Class of 2011:

I write with good wishes that are bittersweet--happiness at the success of your college careers, and sadness that we will not see you any longer on a daily basis.

The world we live in is--as it has always been--a challenging place. It is hard to get started, even with the advantage of a Simmons education behind you. More than anything, evidencing the strength of character and the spirit of independence that will be required of you will be the biggest challenge you face. As I have watched the Class of 2011 in action here on campus, I am confident that you will succeed extraordinarily well on these dimensions.

Never doubt your capacity for learning and growth--almost magically you will see your capacity for facing new tests and taking unprecedented risks emerge as you exercise the capabilities that your undergraduate education has provided you.

Finally, remember that Simmons College is always here--regardless of where you may go on this earth, the College remains stalwart and steady as testimony to the experiences you had here. Do not forget where you came from--these four years are a gift you will appreciate more and more as the days go by.

Go in grace!

Jumpstart Leadership Team

The Scott/Ross Center for Community Service facilitates and promotes community service and service learning for Simmons College faculty, staff, and students. Founded in 1899, Simmons College has a strong history of community involvement. The Scott/Ross Center was established in 2000 through the generosity of Emily Scott Pottruck '78, Trustee of the College. The Center is named in honor of Scott Pottruck and her mother, Arlene Ross Gross '47.The Scott/Ross Center is comprised of two major service programs: Simmons Community Outreach and the Office of Service Learning. These programs work closely together to provide a variety of service opportunities for students, teaching resources for faculty, and support to community partners.

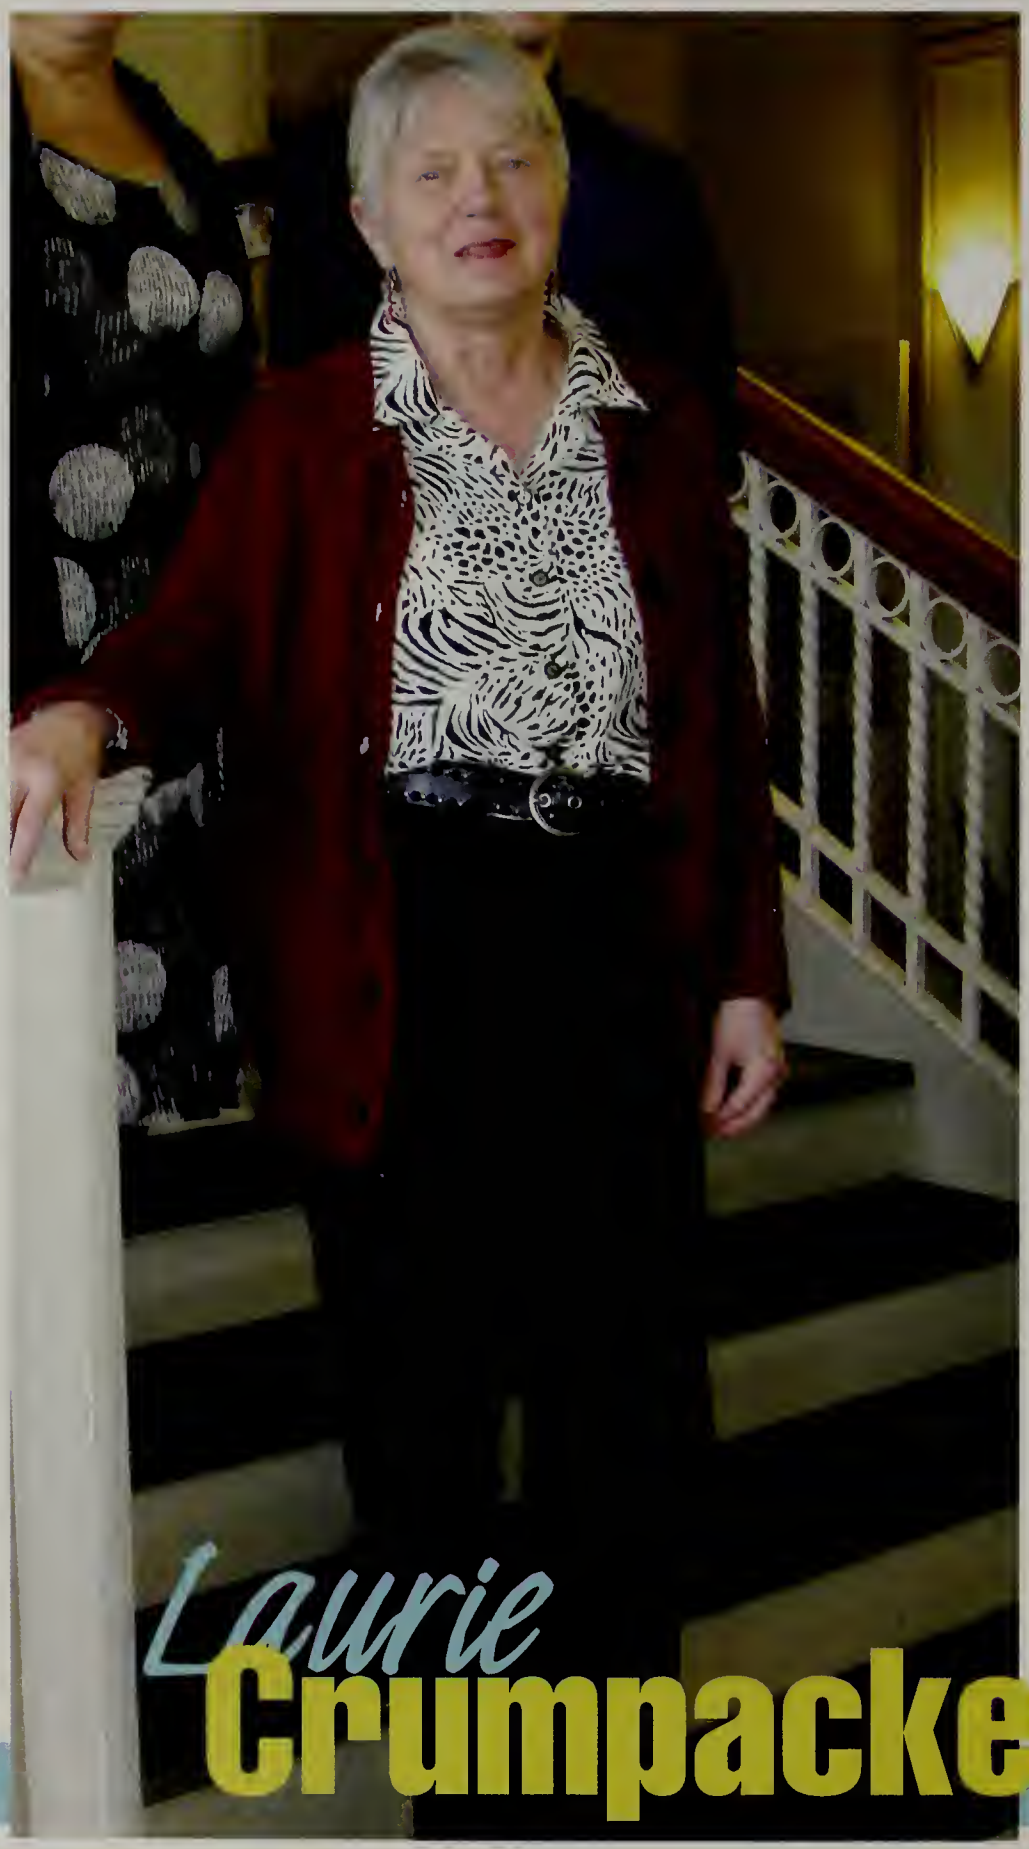
Dean of the College of Arts and Scienes



Laurie Crumpacker

Laurie Crumpacker was appointed interim dean of the College of Arts & Sciences in July 2010, having most recently served as a professor and chair of the Department of History and interim chair of the Department of Women's and Gender Studies.
She specializes in colonial era and American women's history; has written numerous articles and co-authored two books on women's history.

At Simmons, Crumpacker began her career in the Department of History; she was a founder and the first director of the Simmons Women's Studies Program, and also director of the Master's Program in Gender and Cultural Studies. In the 1990s she served as Dean of Arts and Sciences at Susquehanna University and then as the Undergraduate Dean and then Dean of Arts and Sciences at Wheelock College before returning to Simmons in 2005. Crumpacker holds a B.S. from Simmons, an M.A. from Harvard University, and a Ph.D. from Boston University.

Dean of Student Life

Sarah Neill

Sarah Neill assumed the role of dean for student life in June 2009, having served as the associate dean of student life for 11 years. As associate dean, she played a leading role in matters pertaining to student health and wellness across the College and has presented at regional and national conferences on related topics. Prior to her tenure at Simmons, Neill served an assistant dean at Trinity College in Hartford, Connecticut, and has additional student affairs experience working at Smith College and Lesley and Bentley Universities.

For the past two years, Neill has chaired the New England Associate Student Affairs Think Tank, comprised of deans from a range of colleges and universities from the New England region. She also is the recipient of the 2004 Award for Professional Excellence from the Massachusetts Association for Women in Education. Neill holds a B.A. from the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, and an M.A. from Harvard University.

RA Training

Summer 2010

New resident advisors received training over summer training on diversity and learn how to be an awesome RA who can be someone that students can be friends with, but can also look up to. During the training, RAs also plan hall themes for the fall move-in.

"Over summer training, all the RA's and RD's come together to learn the ins and outs of working in Simmons ResLife. In addition to learning about Res Life, we do a lot of staff bonding and really spend time getting to know everyone."

Office of Student Leadership Activities

Julia Golden - Campus Life Coordinator
Tia Miller - Campus Life Coordinator
Jess Faulk - Director of Residence Life
Susan Chudd - Interim Director
John O'Connor - Campus Life Coordinator

The Office of Student Leadership and Activities, OSLA, coordinates programs to enhance the college experience and encourage participation in activities outside the classroom. OSLA also manages the box office, where students can purchase discounted tickets.

Susan Chudd, the Interim Director of the OSLA office, helps out with many of the student organizations and events held on campus. She helps coordinates the Undergraduate Orientation and the Emerging Leaders Program. She also advises Student Government Association, Microcosm, and the Senior Class of 2011.

In 2010, the Office of Student Leadership and Activities and the Office of Residence Life welcomed three new staff members to serve as Campus Life Coordinators (CLCs). The CLCs focus on efforts to create a vibrant Simmons experience for students and to build connections between the academic and residential campuses.

Shark Week

Shark Week, sponsored by OSLA, featured a week long celebration of Simmons spirit! The festivities included cake decorating, blue and gold days, theme dinners at Bartol, basketball games, a shark hunt, and even the naming of the Simmons Shark.

Food Friends Fun

The Residence Campus and Dining at Simmons makes the experience of living on fun and enjoyable. Both combine to create a "home away from home." With so many options for fun, food, and entertainment, one could never complain that they're bored here at Simmons. We all love Bartol's theme dinners and especially they're delicious desserts!

Residence Campus

The Residence Campus at Simmons truly feels like home -- it's quiet at times and at others, it's filled with laughter, fun and friendship. You can find time for quiet reflection at a picnic table under the trees in the fall, have a snowball fight with friends in the winter and begin tanning as soon as it warms up in the spring on the quad.

Commuter Students

The commuter community at Simmons is an engaged, diverse and dynamic group of students. Commuters travel from all over the Boston area, sometimes even from out of state, to come to school at Simmons. Because commuting can oftentimes be exhausting and time consuming, Simmons commuters must have the dedication and determination to succeed.

The Commuter Student Organization (CSO) was revived for the 2010-2011 academic school year. In the fall of 2010, CSO hosted the "Commuter Connection", a well-attended dinner which gave commuters the opportunity to meet and socialize in a non-academic setting. In addition, CSO has worked with the RHA to host breakfasts designed to bring commuters together. In the last year, CSO has also hosted weekly and monthly Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) classes, designed to bring commuters tips for safe commuting.

Wednesdays, from 3:30 to 5pm, the SGA and its dedicated senators met in MCB*C-103. As usual, the year was full of exciting hot topics like the Egyptian Revolution, voting on the introduction of new organizations like the Science Fiction and Fantasy Club, and of course, voting on the budget.

In 2010-2011, SGA did a wonderful job reaching out to both senators and students, providing pre-SGA goodies and music for early birds each week, and hosting events like the Connections Carnival and Women's College Week.

Whether it be listening to guest speakers and new staff at Simmons or discussing a social accountability clause in the Simmons Honor code, SGA is, and will continue to be, a proud presence of powerful, outspoken women on campus.

Simmons writes "Letters of Hope" for Gabrielle Giffords

By Bryn Adler
Staff Writer

Students, faculty, and staff came together to write letters of support to Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords after the Tucson shootings last month. The event, "Letters of Hope," took place at Java City on Jan. 19.

Co-sponsored by Simmons Hillel, the Student Government Association (SGA), and the class of 2011, the College-wide event was part of an ongoing campaign organized by Giffords' alma mater, Scripps College.

"As an undergraduate women's college, we believe Simmons has an important role to play and commitment to stand by other women's institutions and their outstanding alumnae," said senior class president Gabrielle Rossetti and SGA president Rosy Gonzalez in a letter to the community. "We hope you join us for this community-wide activity.

Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Relations Leanne Doherty was a guest especially as a role model for young women interested in serving the public.

"It is because we have role models like Representative Gabrielle Giffords that we can continue to demand from our government what it is there to do," said Doherty of the youngest woman ever elected to the Arizona state legislature.

"Take ambition and turn it into compromise. Take loud voices of the minority or whichever party they may be members of and remind them it is not about one interest, it is about all of our interests."

"It ties into the SGA theme from last semester of social responsibility," said Gonzalez. "When something like this happens it affects everyone."

"When I found out she went to an all-women's college I felt a connection to her," said Rossetti. "There's a bond between us women I thought, 'what would I think if I got a box of letters?'"

Those who came to participate and write a letter of well wishes to Giffords also saw it as an opportunity to connect with her in

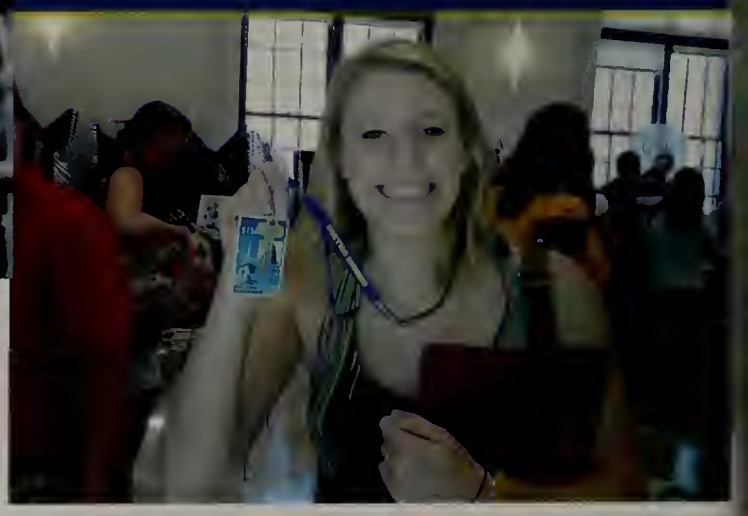
Simmons student life is full of laughter and fun times. With the Fenway Park a walk away, the city of Boston at our door step and a quad full of snow in the winter, we never run out of things to do!

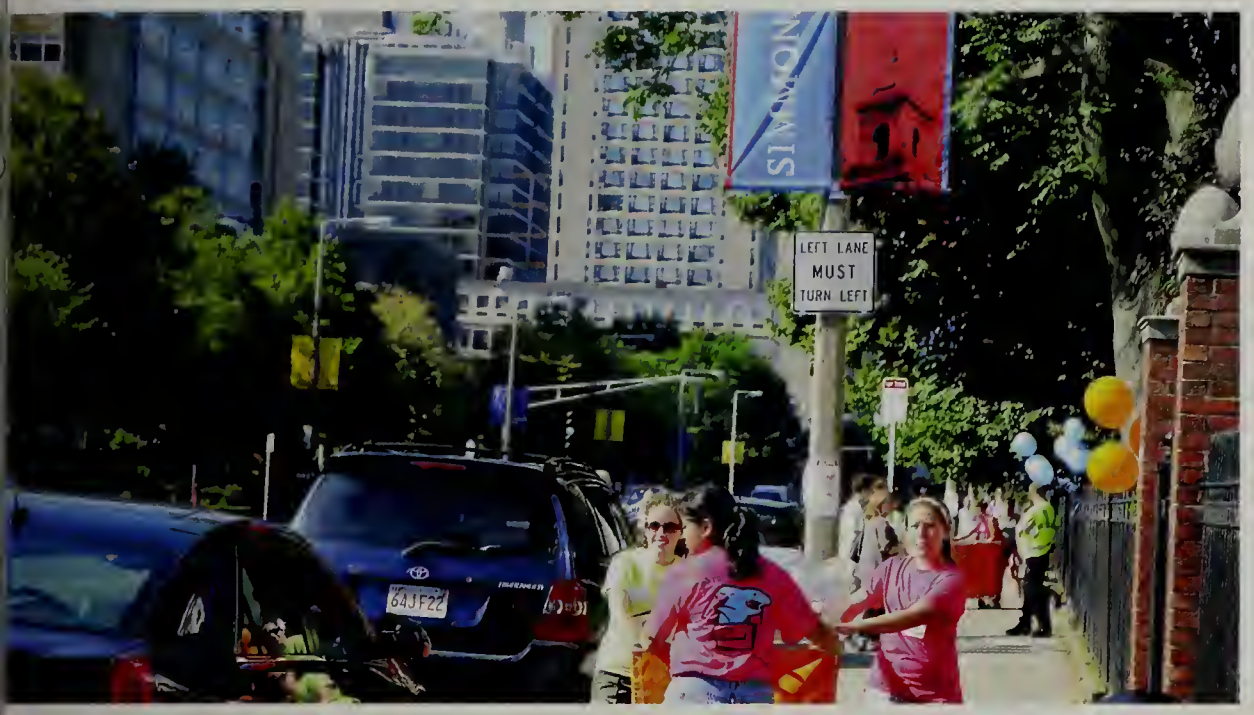
Orientation & Move In

Orientation was a blast! With the class 2014 moving in with excitement, it brings a new year into the family of Simmons College

Left: Move in was made easy this fall with carts to transport large items from parked cars to empty dorm rooms. Balloons were tied to the fence bordering the campus, designating each dorm a different color.

Below: A first year eagerly smiles for the camera, willingly showing off her new Student ID.





Students moved in between 8:30 and 11:30 Sunday morning so students could settle in and get some unpacking done.

Day one of orientation included a free lunch on the quad after listening to President Drinan address new students and families. Lunch on the quad was a nice time to be able to relax and reconnect with friends met at summer orientation.

Honors Convocation

On September 1, 2010 the incoming senior class, along with the new first years, sophomores, and juniors all gathered to honor the hard work of the seniors. The Honors Convocation was originally a part of Founder's Day, which celebrates the founding of Simmons College by John Simmons. Now it has become an annual fall event that marks the beginning of the year and it is the first of the traditional senior events. Seniors wear their graduation caps and gowns and their achievements are acknowledged. The purpose of the Honors Convocation is to remind the seniors and teach the first years that Simmons is a college that prides itself on discovering your voice and your strength. At the Honors Convocation Seniors are motivated by being reminded of how their journey at Simmons began. In order to welcome the first years to Simmons the senior class gives them pins.

Family Weekend

Family weekend 2010 was a great opportunity for friends and family of Simmons students to experience the close-knit Simmons community. Not only were there things to do around Boston, such as going to the Boston Opera House to see the Boston Ballet, or heading to the Charles Playhouse to see Shear Madness, but there were also chances to do things around the campus. Some of these things included game night at Quadside and the tailgate lunch at Bartol Hall. There were also many sporting events students and family could choose to attend, such as tennis, soccer, field hockey, and crew.

Family sits on the sidelines watching the intensity of the game.

Spectators arrive early to get a good view of the action.

Students bring their parents and other family to Bartol Hall for meals. Bartol advertises what they will be serving.

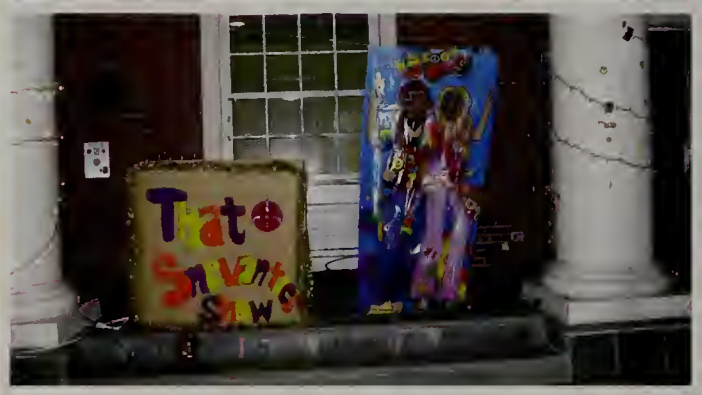
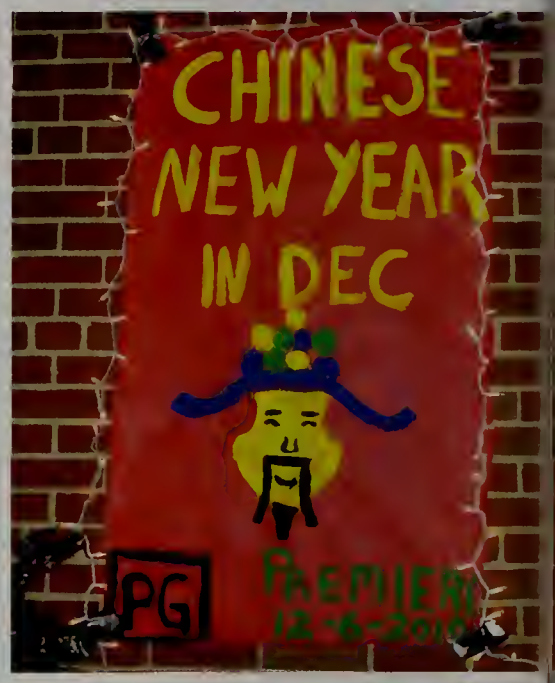
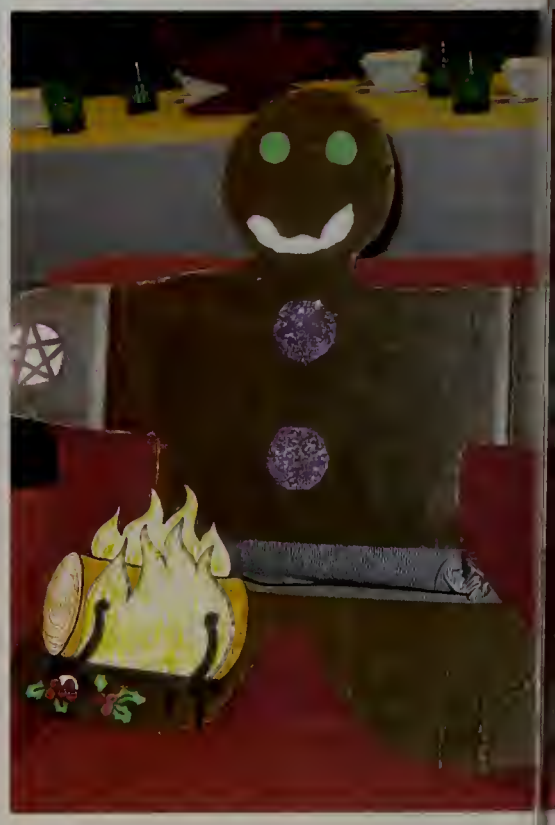
Illumination Celebration





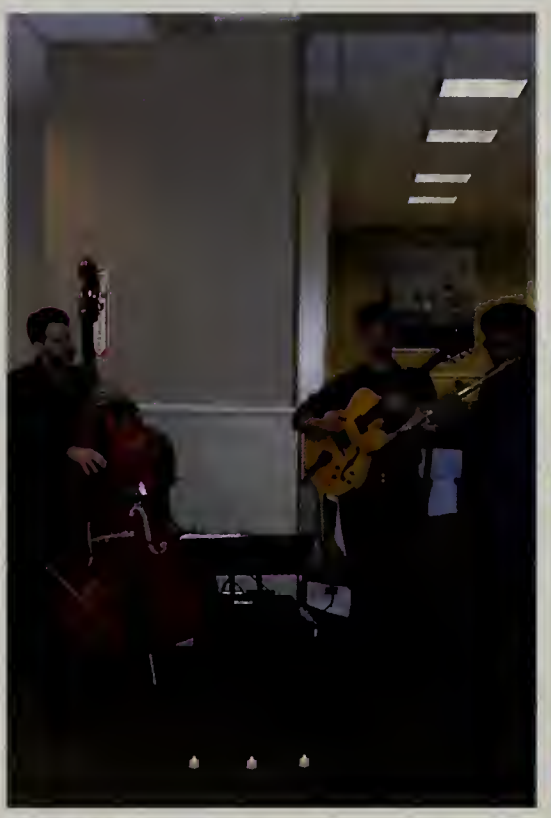
For the Illumination Celebration, the residence halls on campus decorated their building with festive holiday decorations to celebrate the various winter holidays. Each residence hall came up with a theme to show their holiday spirit. The winner was Simmons Hall which was most creative in its presentation!

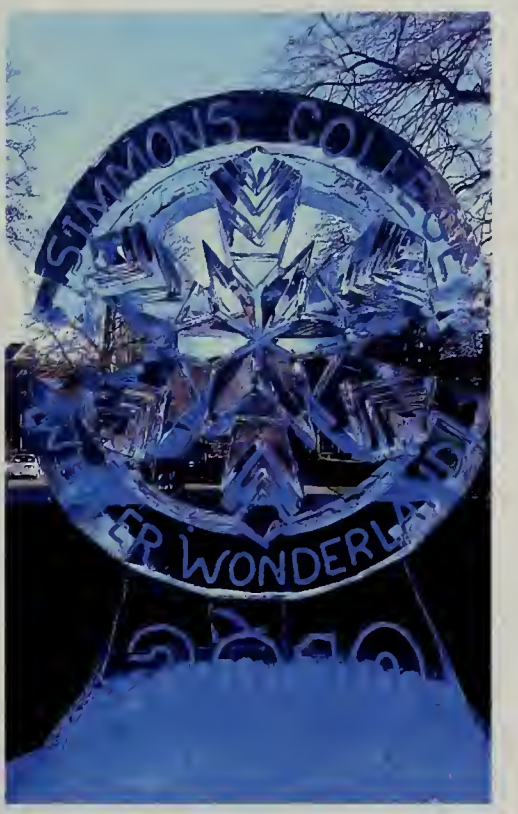


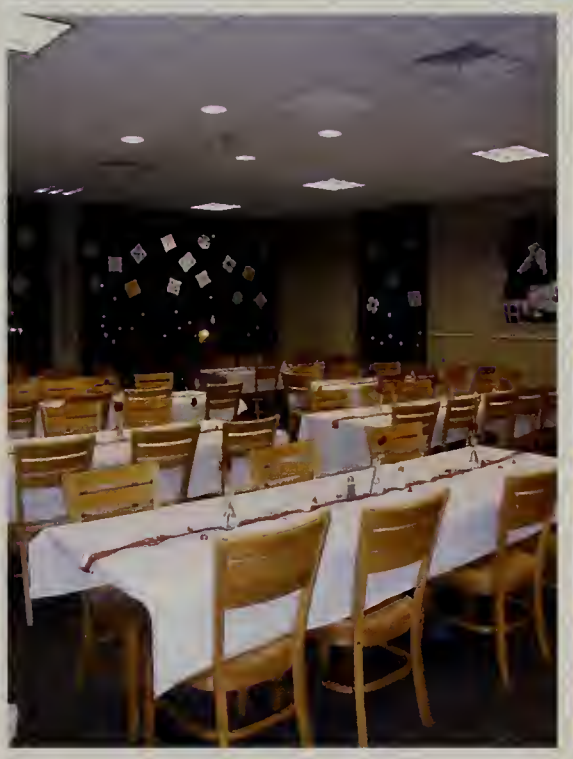
Winter Wonderland

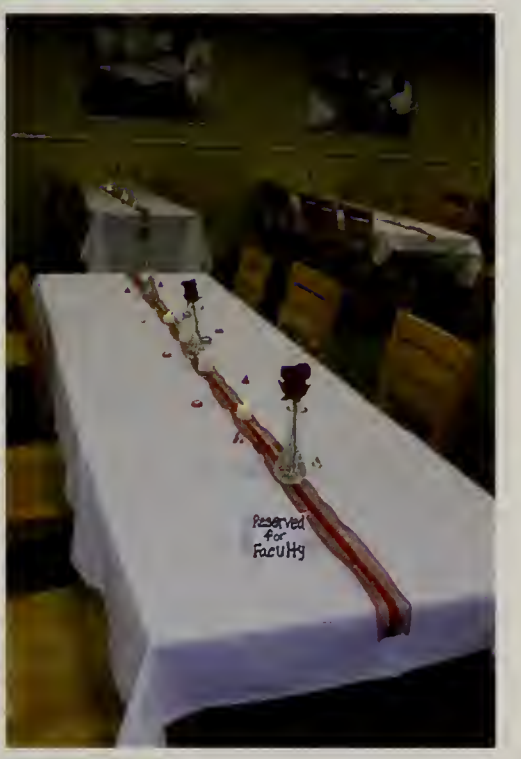
A Simmons tradition

The Simmons Winter Wonderland feast was held in Bartol Hall and hosted by the Class of 2014. The banquet featured a turkey carved by Simmons' own President Helen Drinan, mashed potatoes, as well as many other foods associated with the the winter holidays. Many dinner attendees enjoyed taking pictures outside with the ice sculpture commemorating the event!



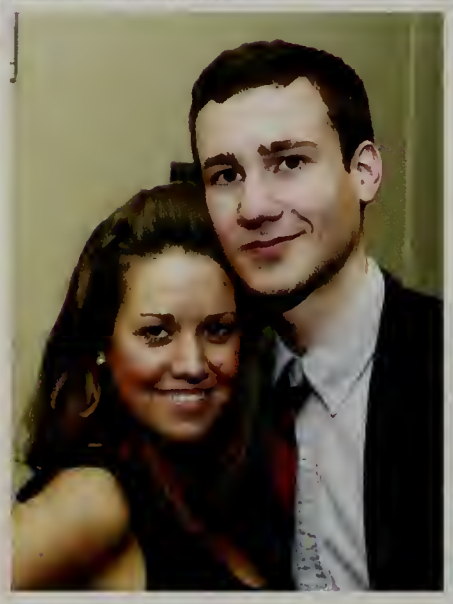


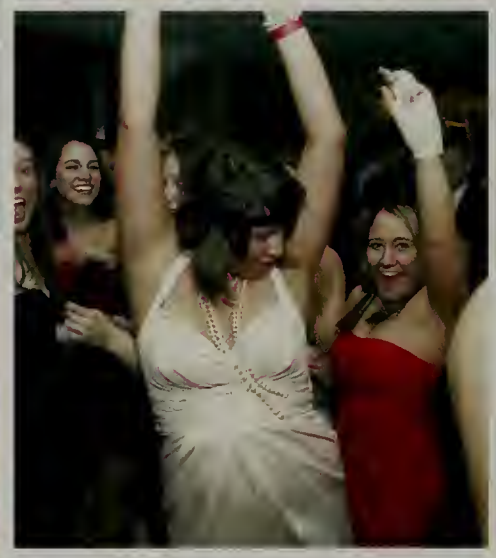


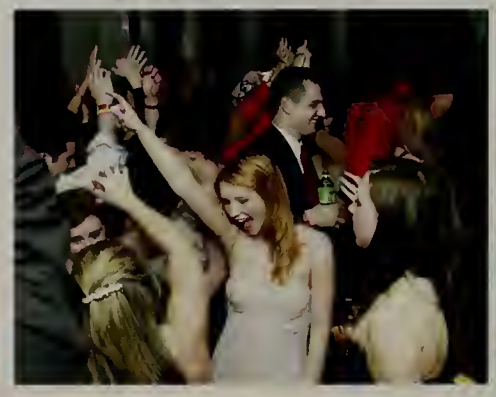


Simmons Soiree

On February 12th hundreds of Simmon's students traded in their Ugg boots and T's for cocktail dresses and heels and piled into the coach buses headed straight to the top of the Prudential building. At the Top of the Hub, Ke$ha songs pulsated the dance floor and guests took a needed break from Bartol, helping themselves to a large array of delicious food. Couples cuddled up at the tables admiring the breathtaking view and friends passed cameras back and forth, capturing every moment of the night and of course, trying to find that perfect new Facebook profile picture. Soiree was an incredible night as usual and the memories made won't soon be forgotten.





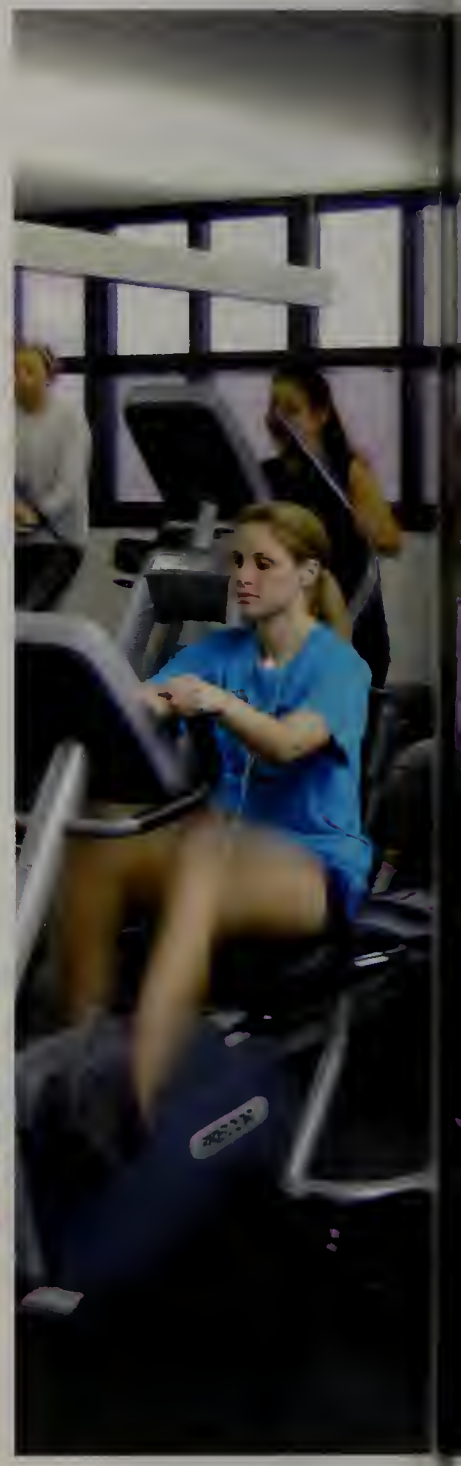


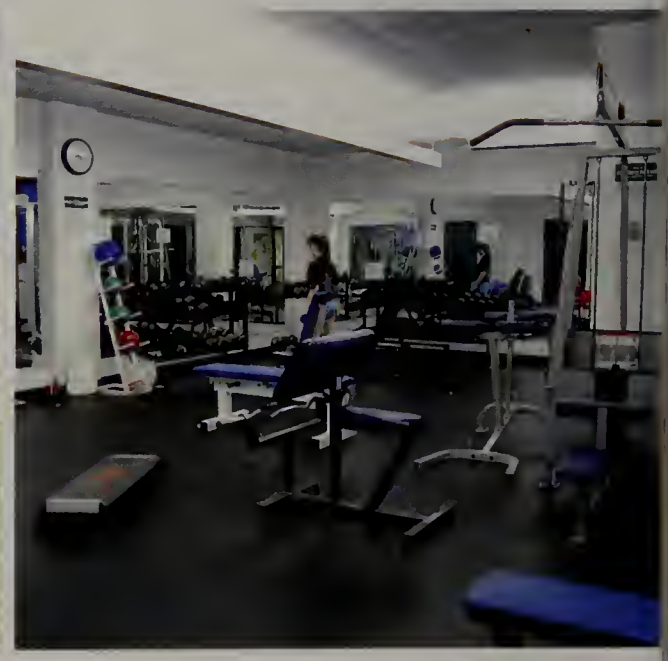
Vagina Monologues

In February, a fabulous group of Simmons women performed Eve Ensler's The Vagina Monologues. Simmons students, staff and family members came to support their friends and peers, who donated all ticket sales to Girl's LEAP (Lifetime Empowerment Awareness Program). As the audience waited excitedly for the show to start refreshments such as anatomically correct chocolate "pussy pops" were sold in the "G-Spot" room. Audience members laughed and cried as they watched the performance, which celebrates women"s sexuality and strength. Highlights of the Vagina Monologues included the entire audience screaming "cunt" at the top of their lungs and watching one performer imitate a plethora of types of orgasms on stage.

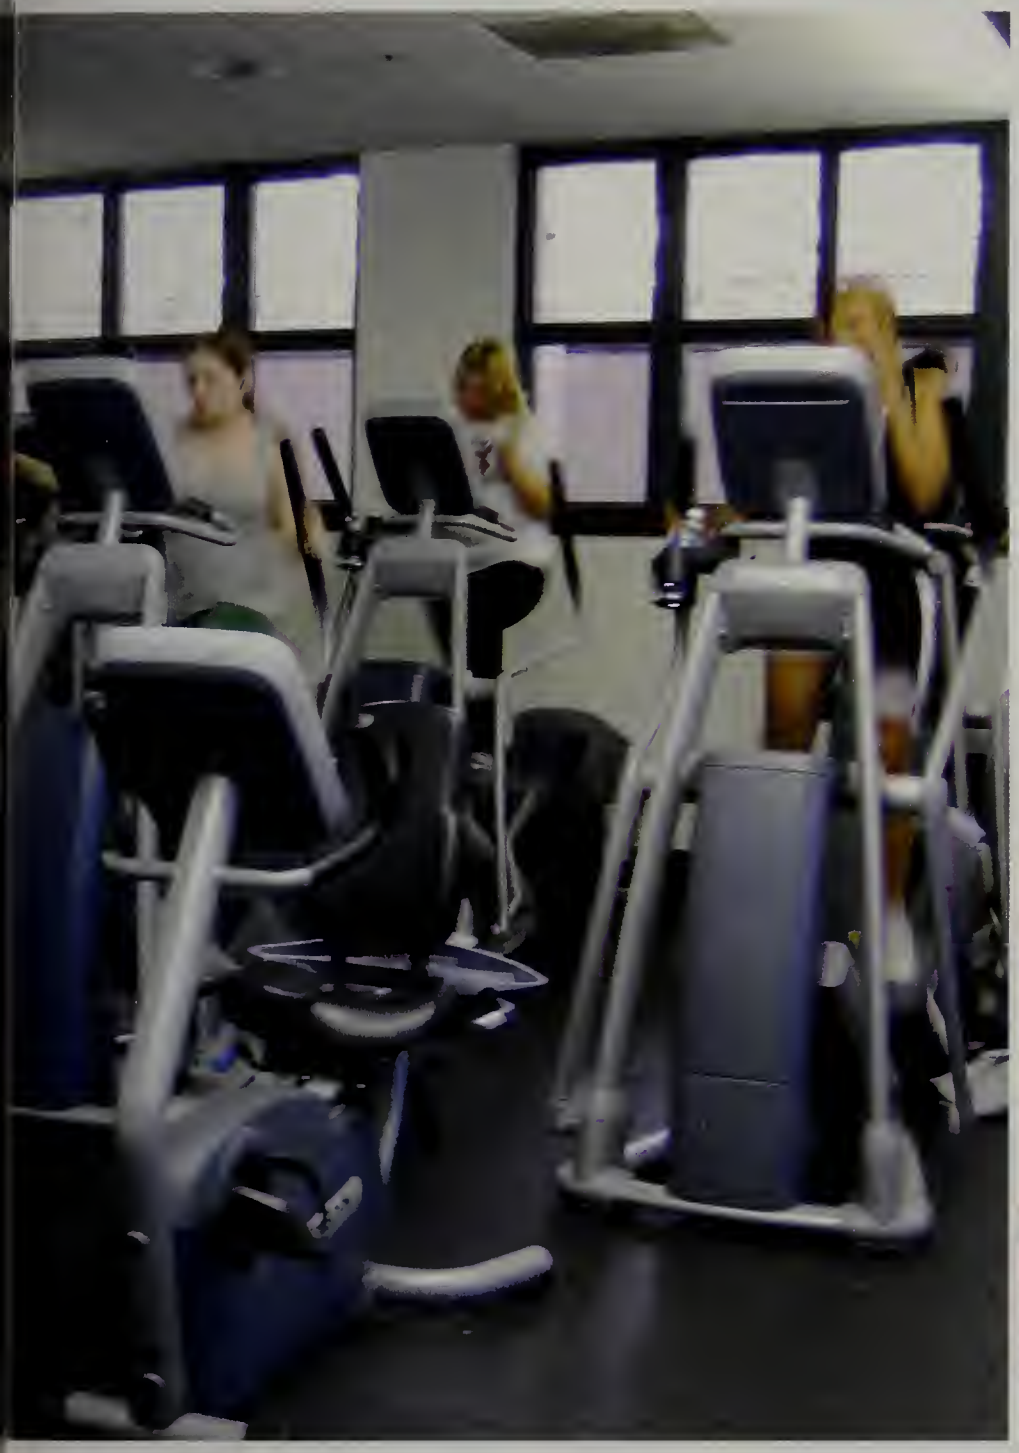
Fitness Center

The Holmes Sports and Fitness Center is a popular place on the residence campus for active Simmons students. Many sports teams have their practices in the gym or swimming pool and the cardio room is always packed with girls on the elliptical and watching Teen Mom 2 on the TV.





LEAP



The LEAP or Lifelong Exercise and Activities Program offers many classes to students who are looking for weekly organized physical activities. Classes like Zumba and Yoga are always fun and packed on the first class of "Free Week". Other classes like Spin, Boot Camp, and Cardio Kick really kick your butt. LEAP is a great way to vary the weekly workout!

basketball

The Simmons basketball team had a good season this winter, ending their season with a 9-14 record. The last game of the regular season was a home game, which doubled as a Battle of the Halls "Think Pink" event to help raise breast cancer awareness.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN?

Laima Zvidra, Sara Sebastian, and Akane dressed in red for the Vagina Monologues.

Caroline, Maile, and Erin during sophmore Soiree.

Athena, AshBo, Claudia and Ryan at Soiree junior year.

Caitiln, Caroline, Kate, and Meaghan attending a Red Sox game freshman year.

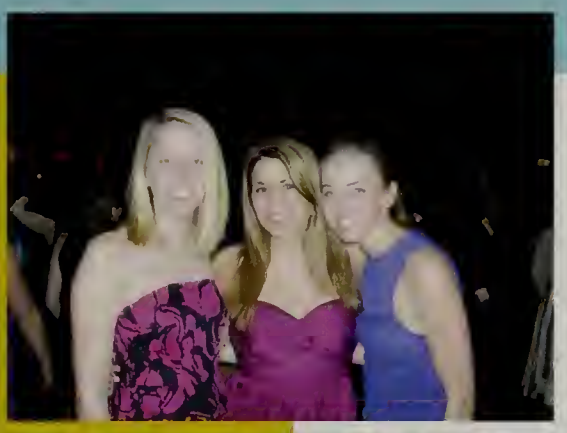
Members of the senior class during the Simmons Cup .

Maile, Caroline, and Emma kayaking on the Charles.

Freshman year, 4th Floor Morse--all the floor snacks, door decorating, TV parties, impromptu dance parties, and the 80-teas Hall Tea. Morse Force winning the Simmons Cup events! Great year, and even greater friendships.

Celebrating Our Seniors!

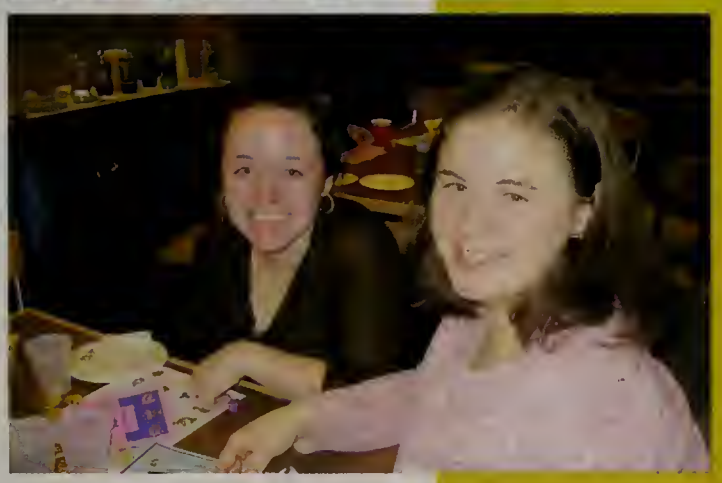
Christmas Tree lighting sophomore year.



Nikki, Caroline and Maile at Simmons Soiree junior year.

Seniors who lived in Morse Hall during their freshman year at the Simmons Cup.

Some of the senior members of the winning team at the Simmons Cup.



Remember the Channukah party we had at Simmons in 2007?

Shelby, Caroline and Maile at the Ski trip during their junior year.

5 tickets to Florida: $1250
20 sonic blasts: $60
5 new bathing suits, sunglasses, books, and towels: $200
3hour flight delay, luggage in LA, ribs at 3am, and 5 days Palm Beach sun with your besties: priceless
<3 Spring Break 2010

Senior Kick Off

The class of 2011 kicked off their final year at Simmons at Bleacher Bar in April, 2010. Soon-to-be-seniors enjoyed appetizers and toasted to their success as they hung out in one of Fenway's most famous bars that looks into Fenway Park.

Senior Faculty Toast

Faculty and staff joined the senior class in the Linda K. Paresky Center in October 2010 for the the Senior Faculty Toast.

President Drinan toasted to the class's bright future and Class of 2011 President Gabrielle Rossetti spoke, congratulating seniors for their hard work.

Alison Boyle

Alison, you are such an amazing daughter, sister and all around person. You shined in your four years at Simmons, as you have done all your life, and we know you will continue to do so. The career path of a nurse that you have chosen is so fitting to your kind, helpful and giving personality. We are so proud of the woman you have become and we all love you.

Dad, Mary-Jo, Brendan, Emily and Katie

Sylvia Ann Massmanian

Congratulations! You have reached a major milestone in your life. We have watched you grow into a passionate and bright young woman. You have come far and worked hard to get to this point. We wish you the same success in all your future endeavors. You have made our dreams come true and we are proud to be your parents.
We Love You,
Mom and Dad

Kaitlin Faticoni

Our dearest Kaitsy,
We are so incredibly proud of what you have accomplished in your life and even prouder of who you have become!

Congratulations. The best is yet to come.

Always remember we love you more than all the stars in the sky. You will forever be our Little Peanut.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Kyle & Connor

Natalia Sullivan

Natalia, we are so proud of all that you have accomplished at Simmons College. You will carry these memories for a lifetime. God Bless,
Mom, Dad and Mark.

Leslie Ann Hynes

"I can't believe my eye!
I can't believe my other eye!"

Ever expansive, always seeking more, more, more information,
I am so proud of you and all of your accomplishments!

This is only the beginning of a lifetime of learning about yourself and the world.

Congratulations, Leslie!
Love, Mum

Simmons

Letter from the Editor

Dear Simmons College,

Working on this yearbook has been one of the biggest and longest projects I have ever taken on. I had no idea what I was getting myself into when I signed on to be the Editor-in-Chief. I did not know what the layouts were going to look like, what content was going on what page, or where our photos were going to come from if I did not staff a photographer soon.

Thankfully, through the help of my friends, peers, and advisors, everything has come together beautifully in this book. I would like to thank the yearbook staff: Samantha Chin, Taylor Robinson, Regina Tayag, and Lili Welch for doing everything from organizing picture appointments, taking pictures to writing and designing for pages; to Lianna Foye who took so many pictures for the book; to Amanda Gross, Dianna LaFauci, and Hilary Shrair who wrote the content for some of the sections. I would like to thank Meghan McGowan for being the managing editor, helping market the book, design pages and putting up with all my shenanigans. Thanks to all the students who submitted pictures: the book would be bare without your contribution, it was a huge help! I would like to especially thank Susan Chudd who helped me through the entire process of putting together this book and without her there would be no book.

All together we have captured another year gone by in words and pictures that will be archived forever as part of Simmons history. I hope everyone enjoys the yearbook as much as I have enjoyed making it!

Sincerely,
Micayla Boari
Editor-in-Chief
